

Membership standards

It is clear to me (and I assume many comrades) that we have misjudged a large number of our most recently acquired comrades. Our standards are too lax and have allowed would-be intellectuals with far too much time on their hands to threaten our years of work. To prevent this from happening in the future I propose stricter membership standards.

For prospective at-large comrades:

1. We revive the organized supporter category and require all prospective comrades be under this aegis in the beginning of the process.
2. Require a letter of recommendation from a full member.
3. Provisional membership for no less than six months.
4. Interview with a member of the CC.
5. 75% majority vote of approval by the CC.

For comrades joining an established committee:

1. Require a letter of recommendation from a full member.
2. Provisional membership for no less than six months.
3. Majority vote of approval by local committee.
4. Interview with a member of the CC.
5. Majority vote of approval by the CC.
